

February 6, 2022

Hello Parish Family,

This month we join with all Americans in celebrating Black History Month. In that spirit, we would like to draw your attention to two resources that we believe you find well worth your time.

Today has been designated as a National Day of Prayer for the African American and African Family. We are attaching a pdf that comes to us from John Thorne of the Detroit Catholic Pastoral Alliance that contains a special prayer and some suggestions for how to observe this day.

The second resource has been brought to our attention by Sister Ellen. Please copy and paste the link below to see a calendar for the month of February that presents a notable black person for each day. Make sure you arrow down below the calendar to see a very brief biography and an additional link that relates to the person who is highlighted.

Let us pray for one another in the week ahead,

The Parish Team.
